DOWNTOWN SPECIFIC PLAN

Planner III Halvorson gave the staff report. The request was for the certification of the Final Environmental Impact Report (FEIR); an amendment to the General Plan—Land Use Element and Circulation Element; to introduce an ordinance adopting the Downtown Specific Plan specifying that all new development in the Downtown Specific Plan area be reviewed and considered for approval as provided for by the Downtown Specific Plan; to amend Municipal Code Section 12-3.05(c) to apply development standards of the Westside Revitalization Project Design Guidelines within the Downtown Specific Plan, and amend the Entrada Specific Plan to remove the Downtown Specific Plan area from the Entrada Specific Plan; to introduce an ordinance amending the Zoning Map rezoning 265 acres of the Downtown Specific Plan area to the SP (Specific Plan) zoning district; and to provide direction to staff regarding implementation of the Downtown Specific Plan. The Downtown Specific Plan encompasses approximately 50 square blocks (or 265 acres) that radiate from the intersection of Broadway and Main Street. The plan is organized into five districts: Bungalow District (Office/Transition), Gateway District (Retail/Commercial), Town Center District (Entertainment/Retail), Garden District (Civic/Cultural/Museum/Recreation), and Railroad Lost District (Live/Work). The Specific Plan is consistent with the General Plan and will be used to guide and intensify development in the Downtown area. In 1972, the Redevelopment Agency (RDA) adopted Redevelopment Plan No. A-1-2 which established regulations effective for 30 years, and extended the Redevelopment Plan for an additional ten (10) years in 1994 to satisfy legal requirements pertaining to the bond financing of the downtown parking structures. Redevelopment Plan No. A-1-2 will expire on September 7, 2012. A joint meeting of the City Council and Redevelopment Agency was necessary in order to address the inconsistencies between the Downtown Specific Plan and Redevelopment Plan No. A-1-2, and declare that the Downtown Specific Plan shall control in the event of any conflict between Redevelopment Plan No. A-1-2 and the Downtown Specific Plan. With the recommendation of the Planning Commission to have design review authority for Planned Development Permits be approved by the Planning Commission, several options for providing direction in implementation were presented: 1) Option 1 - All new development in the Downtown Specific Plan area would be reviewed and considered for approval as provided by the Downtown Specific Plan and public noticing would be given; 2) Option 2 - A Planned Development (PD) overlay district would apply to the entire Downtown Specific Plan area boundaries; 3) Option 3 – All new development in the Downtown Specific Plan area that is 5,000 square feet of floor area or less would be reviewed and acted upon as provided by the Downtown Specific Plan. All new development in the Downtown Specific Plan area that is greater than 5,000 square feet of floor area would require review and action by the Planning Commission. In the three options, the Planning Commission and City Council would be notified of development proposed in the Downtown Specific Plan area and Municipal Code Chapter 12-41 would apply for appeals to the Planning Commission. In Option 1, all new development would be reviewed at a staff level. Some uses would require a Conditional Use Permit (CUP) to be reviewed and acted upon by the Planning Commission. In Option 2, all new development would require a Planned Development (PD) permit to be reviewed and acted upon by the Planning Commission. In Option 3, new development that includes 5,000 square feet of floor area or less would be reviewed at a staff level. However, those uses described in the Downtown Specific Plan that require a CUP would be required to obtain a CUP regardless of size. New development that was larger than 5,000 square feet in floor area would be reviewed and acted upon by the Planning Commission.

On September 17, 2008, the Planning Commission held a public hearing. The Planning Commission expressed that each new project in the Downtown area should have Planning Commission design review, and that it should include the requirement for a Planned Development (PD) Permit or a Project Review Permit. City staff mentioned to the Planning Commission that some projects would need a Conditional Use Permit (CUP) but most permitted land use projects would be reviewed and approved at a staff level. Staff review would save time for an applicant who would normally wait approximately 6-9 months or longer for a discretionary review permit. In addition, the Environmental Impact Report (EIR) would streamline development review if new projects would not create any new significant environmental impacts beyond that which were already reviewed.

At the recommendation of the Recreation and Parks Department, Rosalind Perlman Park was removed from the Downtown Specific Plan boundaries in order to preserve it as a long-term park and open space area, with no other options available.

On September 17, 2008, the Planning Commission unanimously recommended approval of the Downtown Specific Plan with recommended revisions including 1) all new development in the Downtown Specific Plan area would be reviewed by the Planning Commission (either through a Planned Development Permit or Project Review Permit); and 2) to remove Rosalind Perlman Park (northeast corner of Main & Broadway) from the Downtown Specific Plan boundaries. The Planning Commission adopted Resolution No. 2526 recommending that the City Council certify the Final Environmental Impact Report, make CEQA findings, adopt a statement of overriding considerations and adopt a mitigation monitoring program; Resolution No. 2527 recommending the City Council amend the General Plan Land Use Element; Resolution No. 2528 recommending the City Council amend the General Plan Circulation Element; Resolution No. 2529 recommending the City Council amend the Entrada Specific Plan to remove those areas within the Downtown Specific Plan boundaries, to adopt the Downtown Specific Plan, excluding Rosalind Perlman Park from the boundaries of the Downtown Specific Plan, and to amend the Downtown Specific Plan to require that all development plans be reviewed by the Planning Commission; and Resolution No. 2530 recommending the City Council amend the zoning text of the Municipal Code Section 12-3.05(b) to apply development standards of the Westside Revitalization Project, rezone 268 acres of the Downtown Specific Plan to re-designate to the SP (Specific Plan) zoning district, and exclude Rosalind Perlman Park from the boundaries of the Downtown Specific Plan.

Councilmember Trujillo asked for clarification on whether out of the 432 parcels, there were 91 parcels that were under 5,000 feet, and wanted to know their location.

Planner III Halvorson identified the locations on an overhead map, noting that the 91 parcels were scattered around the Downtown Specific Plan area and marked in blue on the map.

Mayor/Chairperson Lavagnino opened the public hearing.

Laurie Tamura, Urban Planning Concepts, commented that she and her company had actively participated in the process for the Downtown Specific Plan since it was initiated four years ago. She expressed her support for the adoption of the plan, and indicated that Option 2 or 3 would allow for the most public participation throughout the process. She thanked staff for their hard work and great effort.

Joan Leon, Santa Maria Community Coalition, spoke in favor of adoption of the Downtown Specific Plan. The Plan had been the subject of many public meetings and provided a comprehensive plan with specific guidelines for development. The Santa Maria Community Coalition expressed support for Option 1 where staff could approve projects. The Coalition supports public participation in the governmental process; but believes the plan had received enough comment and that no further hearings were necessary. She said that the shortest processing time possible would be an incentive to begin the renovation of the downtown. She spoke of the appeal process if an applicant or member of the public didn't agree with staff action.

Ernest Armenta spoke in opposition of the adoption of the Downtown Specific Plan. He asked whether the Plan provided for the retrofitting of old buildings in the area. He spoke of posting signs on buildings that were not currently retrofitted to indicate that a person would be entering the building at their own risk. He also asked that if a new business were to come into the area would they be required to retrofit the building, and when would the City begin requiring the current owners of old buildings to retrofit them under the new Downtown Specific Plan.

Director of Community Development Lindsey responded that retrofitting had been incorporated into the City's Building Code. He further explained that retrofitting pertains to each and every building following inspection, and there were inspection records available for review.

Ernest Armenta further commented that considering the history of what had previously been done in the downtown area, he couldn't support adoption of the Downtown Specific Plan.

Marty Mariscal congratulated Brian Halvorson on the work he had done on the Downtown Specific Plan and the presentation made earlier in the meeting. He said that there had been many community meetings and a lot of public input, and the Plan presented to Council is what the public wanted. He spoke about the passage of SB375, and the transportation funding available. It was a sustainable communities bill signed into law that rewards communities who develop things like a Downtown Specific Plan where the communities build density, housing and other amenities along transit corridors and utilize mass transit corridors, such as moving the transit center from its current Cook Street location to the corner on Miller Street. He further commented as a property owner in the Downtown Specific Plan area, he supports Option 1 as it would give the most flexibility and would show confidence in the staff that not only developed the Plan, but who would be the ones to carry it out.

Jeannett Gibson supports the adoption of the Downtown Specific Plan. She expressed concerns with Option 1 and mentioned that density, landscaping and building colors are not specifically prescribed in the Downtown Specific Plan leaving those decisions up to the opinion or judgment of one person on staff. As a project applicant, working for Urban Planning Concepts, that could put them in a bit of an adversarial role if they didn't agree with staff and had to appeal to the Planning Commission. Option 3 is similar to other local cities, and she felt that public input was important.

Hearing no further requests to speak on this item, Mayor/Chairperson Lavagnino closed the public hearing.

Councilmember/Board Member Zacarías asked, in addressing a written communication from Daniel Blough that was distributed at the meeting, if it would be useful to have timeframes that could be followed for processing under Option 3.

Director of Community Development Lindsey indicated that there was already a process spelled out by the Municipal Code for appeals to the Planning Commission. He indicated that the same rules would apply for an appeal from Planning Commission to City Council.

Councilmember Zacarías clarified her question in that it wasn't about the appeal process, but whether or not there were established time periods from start to finish through the application process that the planning community can count on.

City Attorney Trujillo responded that the concept she was inquiring about was similar to the Permit Streamlining Act which didn't apply to this situation. By law, streamlining was required for subdivisions; it was not required for these type of approvals. He further indicated that there were good policy reasons why timelines weren't put into place with these types of approvals. He commented that due to staffing levels and work load, what would happen if the timelines weren't met. However, the Council could make a policy decision to impose such timelines. In speaking from a staff's perspective, he wouldn't recommend imposing timelines that were not required by law.

Councilmember Zacarías read Mr. Blough's letter. She confirmed that a process was already in place for appeals and that noticing was provided to property owners within 300 feet. Mr. Blough requested that he'd like the Council to consider allowing other owners who wish to be notified pay for receiving notification and also that the City allow for registering of email addresses for additional notification opportunities.

Director of Community Development Lindsey indicated that from his experience that posting of a notice on the site or the adjacent property actually does more to stimulate any comment and provides more effective notification than any other process, and that's what staff would advocate. It would not include property owners within 300 feet. Legal notices for owners within 300 feet were sent out for such things as rezoning projects. Posting the property, mailing legal notices and publishing in the newspaper were three options used by the City. He indicated that, through experience, notifying those people who were in the impacted area by posting the property would do more to accelerate the process.

Councilmember/Board Member Orach commented that he attended the majority of the meetings over the years. He also indicated that the All-America City Committee had also conducted subsequent meetings talking about the downtown and the Downtown Specific Plan. He commended Brian Halvorson on his work on the project. He also said that doing the EIR had set the City back about 18 months, but it provided the opportunity to take a look at all the factors and mitigate them. He was looking to fast forward to getting it off the ground.

Councilmember/Board Member Trujillo commented that he was in favor of approving of the Downtown Specific Plan, but that he took great notice that the Planning Commission had recommended Option 2. He commented that the Council appointed the Planning Commissioners and that they had heard many of the arguments. He noticed that Option 3 was a bit of both Option 1 and Option 2, which seemed to be a better option.

Mayor/Chairperson Lavagnino indicated that he would like to address the three options after addressing the other items first.

Councilmember/Board Member Patino indicated that she was excited to get going with the Downtown Specific Plan and fast forward the process. She said they needed to be really careful because she didn't like what was done in downtown Santa Maria in the 1970's. She commented that she supported Option 3. She stated that she was ready for a nice downtown and really liked the traffic-calming in the Plan for the downtown.

Mayor/Chairperson Lavagnino commented that that Downtown Specific Plan was a good plan, and that he wished it had been in place in 1975 when they tore down nine square blocks of the downtown of Santa Maria. He said that it wasn't in place at that time, and now this Council was left to pick up the marbles. He congratulated staff and commented that they had done a great job.

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL AND REDEVELOPMENT OF THE CITY OF SANTA MARIA, CALIFORNIA, REZONING APPROXIMATELY 265 ACRES OF PROPERTY LOCATED WEST OF SCHOOL STREET, EAST OF PINE STREET, SOUTH OF FESLER STREET AND NORTH OF MORRISON AVENUE, VARIOUS ASSESSOR PARCEL NUMBERS, FILE NO. GPZ-2008-004.

Mayor/Chairperson Lavagnino read each of the options. He clarified that Option 1 would allow staff to make decisions on the projects, Option 2 would take four to six months and would cost the applicant approximately $6,000 to $10,000, and Option 3 would be a combination of Option 1 and Option 2 which would give the Planning Commission and the Council a look at the projects as well as allowing the public the opportunity to have input on the projects.

Planner III Halvorson confirmed Mayor/Chairperson Lavagnino's comments.

Mayor/Chairperson Lavagnino motioned that the City Council adopt Option 3, for discussion purposes only, and seconded by Council/Boardmember Patino.

Council/Boardmember Trujillo asked if Option 2 was more costly because there are more costs involved up front and requested City Manager Ness' opinion of Option 3.

Planner III Halvorson confirmed that Option 2 is the more costly option due to the application fees for a Planned Development Permit and the time it would take to go through the process to get an approved project before they could submit their construction drawings.

City Manager Ness stated that Option 1 was proposed by staff to the Planning Commission. The Planning Commission approved making a recommendation to the City Council for Option 2. Subsequently, staff had worked with some of the project representatives and developers within the community to come up with the hybrid, compromised combination approach in Option 3. Of the 434 lots within the Downtown Specific Plan area, only about 91, or less than 20 percent, would be reviewed by staff. All the others would be reviewed by the Planning Commission. Option 1 is clearly the more streamlined option. Option 2 would be more costly and more time consuming. He thought Option 3 was a decent combination of the two and indicated that it could be tested. If it needed to be changed later, amendments could be made in the future, if necessary.

Mayor/Chairperson Lavagnino indicated that he didn't want it to appear that he didn't have confidence in staff, because he did. He commented that with something as important as the downtown, that it may take a little longer to go through the Planning Commission process and on to the City Council. After seeing what happened in 1975, he never wanted to see that again.

Council/Boardmember Orach commented that discussion returns back to that time in 1975, but there were different aspects and different redevelopment laws in place. Redevelopment law has been superseded with this plan. Instituting the Plan would be what the community has wanted and what staff has wanted to put the Downtown Specific Plan together, and the guideline would be very different than what was in place presently. He expressed concern that only 91 parcels would be okay for staff review, but everything else would have to come back for expense and delay. He questioned if the Council were to implement Option 1 and determine that it wasn't satisfactory at a later time, could the Council institute an Option 2 or an Option 3 at that time.

Staff responded that another Option could be instituted later.

City Attorney Trujillo asked if it was the Council's intent that the Planning Commission be the final action and appealable to the City Council, or that the Planning Commission would make a recommendation to the City Council so that final action would rest with the City Council.

Mayor/Chairperson Lavagnino indicated that he'd prefer the City Council to have the final decision, with the other Council/Boardmembers concurring.

With regard to implementation of the Downtown Specific Plan and development review within the Downtown Specific Plan boundaries, the City Council and Redevelopment Agency chose Option 3, that all new development in the Downtown Specific Plan area that is 5,000 square feet of floor area or less would be reviewed and acted upon as provided by the Downtown Specific Plan and that all new development in the Downtown Specific Plan area that is greater than 5,000 square feet of floor area would require the review and recommendation by the Planning Commission to the City Council for final action, on motion by Mayor/Chairperson Lavagnino, seconded by Council/Boardmember Patino, and carried on the following vote:

AYES: Council/Boardmembers Orach, Patino, Trujillo, Zacarías and Mayor/Chairperson Lavagnino

NOES: None

ABSENT: None

ABSTAIN: None

Having no further business to come before the Redevelopment Agency, Chairperson Lavagnino adjourned the Redevelopment Agency Meeting at 7:45 p.m. and the remainder of the City Council meeting continued.

INTERIM TECHNICAL AMENDMENTS TO THE SANTA MARIA MUNICIPAL CODE

Senior Assistant City Attorney/Utilities Counsel Stockton gave the staff report. As part of an ongoing project beginning in 2000, the City Attorney's office had collected a list of Municipal Code provisions that work ineffectively for technical reasons. The list also includes laws that need to be updated, modified or deleted because of changes in City operations. The proposed ordinance would do the following: (1) amend Section 1-7.02 to add Provisional Officer, Senior Park Services Officer, Park Services Officer II, Fire Prevention Officer I/II/III, and Senior Code Compliance Officer as public officers authorized to arrest and issue notices to appear, and remove Fire Prevention Inspector I/II; 2) modify and modernize Sections 5-3.101, 5-3.204 and 5-3.303, pertaining to regulation of dangerous dogs. The proposed provisions add definitions, amend procedures for impoundment, and amend the time period in which an annual dog license is required; and 3) amend Section 9-1.202, clarifying what is an unlawful violation of the City's Municipal Code relating to building regulations.

Councilmember Zacarías asked if the dog licensing fee was separate from the County license fee and requested clarification that there was only one fee.

Senior Assistant City Attorney/Utilities Counsel Stockton confirmed that the County administers all of the City's animal control matters under contract. While working on clean ups to other dog provisions, she noticed that the City's Code did not match that of current practice.

Ordinance No. 2008-27 making technical amendments to the Municipal Code was introduced by title only for first reading and continued to the next meeting for second reading and adoption on motion by Councilmember Patino, seconded by Councilmember Trujillo, and carried on the following vote:

AYES: Councilmembers Orach, Patino, Trujillo, Zacarías, and Mayor Lavagnino
 NOES: None
 ABSENT: None
